

WANTED DEAD

Hydrilla

Photos courtesy of WA State Noxious Weed Control Board

- Rooted annual or perennial
- Capable of growing in any type of water body
- Forms large dense populations
- Out competes native vegetation
- Provides poor habitat for fish and wildlife
- The dense mats alter water quality
- Stagnant areas caused by the hydrilla provide mosquito habitat
- Hydrilla will out compete both Eurasian watermilfoil and Brazilian elodea

WWW.WELDWEEDS.ORG