POINTS	VIOLATION	VIOLATION ID
10 pts.	Proper cold holding temperatures Comment: (Corrected) A container of cut lettuce in an ice bath measured 55F. The lettuce had been taken from the functioning walk in cooler ~1 hour prior. The ice was only touching the bottom of the container. Foods requiring temperature control shall be kept cold at 41 F or below. The lettuce was relocated to the functioning walk in cooler for rapid cooling. Violation corrected on site.	22
5 pts.	Proper date marking and disposition Comment: (Corrected) Found a slab of ready to eat ham in the walk in cooler that was removed from its original packaging without dates marked. Ready to eat foods requiring temperature control that are held for more than 24 hours shall be labeled with the date prepared or opened, and shall be held for a maximum of 7 days or by manufacturer use-by date, whichever occurs first. An employee date marked the ham. Violation corrected on site.	23
