August 3, 2020

Dear Property Owner,

Enclosed you will find a Notice of Value for the 2020 tax year. Please note that the value reflected on this notice was based on a BIA (Best Information Available) assessment because you did not file a personal property declaration with our office. The law requires you to file a declaration with our office every year. The declaration needs to include a complete detailed listing of all machinery, equipment, and other personal property used in conjunction with a business at each location. The listing must include a description of the equipment, the year acquired, and the original installed cost.

The BIA assessment on this notice is a value derived from comparing the actual values of similar businesses of similar size. The authority for this can be found in 39-5-116 C.R.S. This value (BIA) will remain on the account until an accurate listing of equipment is received.

On the Notice of Value, you will find an estimate of your business' Personal Property taxes which will be due and payable next January. You should be aware that, per 39-5-122 C.R.S., since the value was derived from a BIA assessment, you cannot receive an abatement for taxes owed or a refund for taxes paid.

At this juncture, you have two courses of action to adjust your value.

1. File a timely protest of this Notice of Value. You can do so by following the instructions on the back of the form. You must protest between August 3rd and August 20th to have this value changed.
2. If you fail to protest by August 20th, our office will complete an audit of all your taxable personal property as required by the Colorado State Board of Equalization. Accordingly, an appraiser from this office will visit your business prior to November 2nd to examine your personal property. You must allow an audit of your personal property by November 2nd to have this value changed.

Either option requires you to provide the Assessor's office a complete detailed listing of all machinery, equipment, and other personal property used in conjunction with a business at this location. The listing must include a description of the equipment, the year acquired, and the original installed cost. All information given to personnel in the Assessor's Office are, by law, held as confidential. This information will be used to determine the value of your equipment for property tax purposes.

After November 2nd, you will not receive an adjustment, even if the value is erroneous. Taxes will be assessed on the BIA value and no abatement or refund will be granted.

If you have any questions, I urge you to contact either Cristina Caplinger at (970) 400-3686, Lauren Harford at (970) 400-3663 or Sean McElroy at (970) 400-3693.

Sincerely,
